ONE TEAM. ONE COMMUNITY. ONE VISION.

While each member has been assigned to a specific committee based on their role and responsibilities, Hult Prize is ultimately a collaborative team effort.

The committees will work closely with one another throughout the cohort, and there may be situations where a particular team requires assistance beyond its designated responsibilities. We therefore encourage every member to remain approachable, supportive, and willing to step in whenever the larger team needs them.

Your committee is your primary responsibility, but the entire Hult Prize team is your community.

Mutual support, effective communication, collaboration, and a shared sense of responsibility will be essential to delivering a successful Hult Prize OnCampus experience.

Building a better future
through bold ideas
and collective action.

ONBOARDING & NEXT STEPS

The final onboarding email will be sent individually to every selected member with the necessary information and further instructions.

Following the onboarding process, members will be added to their respective Hult Prize community groups, where committee-specific communication, coordination, and updates will take place.

Members are requested to regularly monitor their registered email addresses and official communication channels to ensure that no important updates are missed.

OUR EXPECTATIONS

Throughout the Hult Prize OnCampus 2026–27 cohort, we expect every member to uphold a high standard of professionalism, responsibility, integrity, and mutual respect.

Members are expected to:

- Communicate professionally and respectfully with fellow team members, faculty members, participants, judges, mentors, partners, and other stakeholders.
- Take ownership of assigned responsibilities and complete tasks within agreed timelines.
- Maintain punctuality and active participation in meetings, activities, and events.
- Keep internal discussions, documents, and sensitive information confidential wherever required.
- Be receptive to feedback and contribute constructively to team discussions.
- Support fellow committee members whenever assistance is required.
- Represent Hult Prize OnCampus, University of Calcutta responsibly, both online and offline.

Building a better future
through bold ideas
and collective action.

WELCOME TO THE HULT PRIZE COMMUNITY

This is more than an assignment to a committee. It is an opportunity to collaborate, learn, lead, build meaningful connections, and contribute to something larger than ourselves.

Congratulations once again to all the selected members.

We look forward to an exciting, collaborative, and impactful Hult Prize OnCampus 2026–27 at the University of Calcutta.

LET'S BUILD IT TOGETHER.
